EXECUNET SELECTS RESUME MIRROR'S RESUME EXTRACTION TECHNOLOGY TO SPEED UP MEMBERSHIP PROCESS

Vancouver B.C., — July 16, 2003 — Talent Technology Corporation, an award-winning provider of recruitment technology, today announced that ExecuNet, a leader in executive-level networking, jobs and career advancement, has chosen Resume Mirror's REX resume extraction technology to reduce significantly the time spent by new members in building their career profiles and preferences. Resume Mirror, a premier supplier of software components and online services to the HR and Recruiting market, will provide its REX component software to enhance the member application process of ExecuNet's online executive career site.

For 15 years, ExecuNet has brought executives and recruiters together, helping recruiters find quality candidates and executives find meaningful opportunities. With over 20,000 executive positions posted annually and a rapidly growing membership, ExecuNet needed to enhance their career site and assist their elite members with building career profiles faster. "Our commitment to serving executives includes innovative technology solutions that make an ExecuNet membership both valuable and convenient," said Darryl Layne, CTO of ExecuNet. "Resume Mirror provided the core resume extraction component technology we needed to ensure our members could quickly build their career profiles directly from their resume without 'copy and paste' or retyping. The comprehensive profile - complete with experience, education and preferences - is all extracted automatically in seconds to populate the profile. It has helped us streamline the membership process and connect our executive members with opportunities faster."

"It's exciting to partner with an industry leader like ExecuNet. Building a focused offering that targets senior executives requires you offer an exceptional service - one that starts with a fast and efficient membership application process," said Praj Patel, General Manager of Resume Mirror. "With our focus on providing key HR/recruiting components and with 12 years spent evolving our core resume extraction technology, we allow companies like ExecuNet to take their offerings to the next level with our easy to integrate solutions that deliver immediate efficiency benefits and time-savings to their users."
