University Health Systems of Eastern Carolina Improves Job Application Process with Resume Mirror Software from Talent Technology

Regional health system uses resume extraction technology to attract and hire the best health care workers in a competitive recruiting environment

Vancouver, B.C. – January 12, 2010 – Talent Technology Corporation announced today that University Health Systems of Eastern Carolina (UHSEC), a regional health system covering 29 counties, has improved its recruiting processes to provide single-click resume capture using Resume Mirror Extraction Enterprise on their PeopleSoft HCM eRecruit solution. By creating a quick and easy way to apply for jobs at their facilities, UHSEC is now able to collect more resumes and applications in order to find and hire the best candidates in an extremely competitive health care recruiting environment.

“Understanding the unique challenges of a health care organization and the typical workflows we’d need to adhere to, the Talent Technology implementation staff knew all the right questions to ask, and they were able to anticipate the effects any tweak or change might have on the solution,” said Beverly Davis, HR Technical Analyst at UHSEC, “I love Resume Mirror! It has been a Great, Great, Great solution!”

“Even in tough economic times, there are plenty of opportunities for health care practitioners. Organizations like University Health Systems of Eastern Carolina must make every effort to stand out above the rest,” said Praj Patel, EVP, Talent Technology Corporation, “By recognizing the opportunity to drive a better candidate experience and make it easier to apply for a job through automated resume extraction technology, UHSEC is attracting the high quality candidates they need to provide the best care to the communities they serve and support.”
